Displaying projects on a map

The screenshot displays the Lisanet web application interface for managing work sites. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'Map' and 'List' tabs. Below this is a search and filter section with fields for 'Name', 'Status', 'Turnover (K€)', and 'Minimum turnover'. A 'New work site' button is located in the top right corner. The main area is a map of Europe with several project locations marked by colored pins. A pop-up window for 'John's Hill street waterford (770GC)' provides details such as Name, Code, Address, Turnover, Status (In progress), Start work date, Estimated end of work date, and Entity. On the right side, a legend titled 'TEST CLIENT' lists various work agencies with corresponding color-coded markers. Red arrows highlight key features: 'Search filters' pointing to the filter section, 'Adding a new site' pointing to the 'New work site' button, 'Access to the project by clicking on the geolocation point' pointing to a pin on the map, and 'Multi-site: colour code per site' pointing to a legend entry.
